

A low-cost professional book cover design solution provided by Dugan Design Group. High-quality covers with contemporary design and typography give your new book a competitive edge. Now available exclusively through www.believerspress.com.

COLLECTIONS 7 & 8

dugandes!gngroup

Template 1A

Template 1B

Template 1C

Template 1D

Template 2A

Template 2B

Template 2C

Template 2D

*Click on thumbnail to view full cover

HEADLINE FOR THE BACK COVER

WHEN, IN THE COURSE OF HUMAN EVENTS, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bonds which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.

Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shown that mankind are

- more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable
- than to right themselves by abolishing the forms
- when a long train of abuses and usurpations, to which they are accustomed

AUTHOR'S NAME we hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.

Student, Study!

Author

Student, Study!

YOUR SUBTITLE
WOULD GO HERE

John Author

HEADLINE FOR BACK COVER

WHEN, IN THE COURSE OF HUMAN EVENTS, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bonds which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.

Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shown that mankind are

- more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable
- than to right themselves by abolishing the forms
- when a long train of abuses and usurpations to which they are accustomed

AUTHOR'S NAME we hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.

THE TITLE OF YOUR BOOK!!

AUTHOR

this could be a lead-in to...

THE TITLE OF YOUR BOOK!!

A Clear and Compelling Subtitle Can Enhance Your Book's Appeal

JAMES T. AUTHOR

HEADLINE FOR THE BACK COVER OF THE BOOK

WHEN, in the course of human events, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bonds which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.

Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shown that mankind are

- more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable
- than to right themselves by abolishing the forms
- when a long train of abuses and usurpations, to which they are accustomed

AUTHOR'S NAME we hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.

PLACE YOUR BOOK TITLE HERE

PLACE YOUR BOOK
TITLE
HERE

Your Subtitle
Or Another
Line Could Go Here

USE THIS OR CHOOSE YOUR OWN STOCK IMAGE

AUTHOR

JOHN Q. AUTHOR

Back Cover Heading

WHEN, IN THE COURSE OF HUMAN EVENTS, it becomes necessary for one people to dissolve the political bonds which have connected them with another, and to assume among the powers of the earth, the separate and equal station to which the laws of nature and of nature's God entitle them, a decent respect to the opinions of mankind requires that they should declare the causes which impel them to the separation.

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.

Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shown that mankind are

- more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable
- than to right themselves by abolishing the forms
- when a long train of abuses and usurpations, to which they are accustomed

AUTHOR'S NAME we hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness. That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed.

Shelf Category
ISBN 000-0-4461-2345-6
0 000446 123455 5 1299
U.S. $12.99

BOOK TITLE HERE

AUTHOR

Book Title Here

A Subtitle Might go in This Space

SUSAN AUTHOR

Back Heading Goes Right Here

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. That whenever any form of government becomes destructive to these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness.

Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shown that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed...

SUSAN Q. AUTHOR BIO But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security.

YOU CAN PLACE YOUR BOOK TITLE RIGHT HERE

AUTHOR

YOU CAN PLACE YOUR
BOOK TITLE
RIGHT ABOUT HERE

The Subtitle Could Be Placed Right Here

SUSAN Q. AUTHOR

BACK COVER HEADING BELONGS HERE

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. That whenever any form of government becomes destructive to these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness.

Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shown that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed.

AUTHOR BIO to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security. --Such has been the patient sufferance of these colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former systems...

PLACE YOUR TITLE HERE

Author

PLACE YOUR TITLE HERE

Subtitle Could Be Placed Right Here

SUSAN Q. AUTHOR

HEADING COULD GO HERE

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. That whenever any form of government becomes destructive to these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness.

Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shown that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed.

SUSAN Q. AUTHOR But when a long train of abuses and usurpations, pursuing invariably the same object evinces a design to reduce them under absolute despotism, it is their right, it is their duty, to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security.

PLACE TITLE HERE

AUTHOR

PLACE TITLE HERE

A Subtitle Could Be Placed Here

SUSAN Q. AUTHOR

Back Heading Here

We hold these truths to be self-evident, that all men are created equal, that they are endowed by their Creator with certain unalienable rights, that among these are life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness.

That to secure these rights, governments are instituted among men, deriving their just powers from the consent of the governed. That whenever any form of government becomes destructive to these ends, it is the right of the people to alter or to abolish it, and to institute new government, laying its foundation on such principles and organizing its powers in such form, as to them shall seem most likely to effect their safety and happiness.

Prudence, indeed, will dictate that governments long established should not be changed for light and transient causes; and accordingly all experience hath shown that mankind are more disposed to suffer, while evils are sufferable, than to right themselves by abolishing the forms to which they are accustomed.

AUTHOR BIO to throw off such government, and to provide new guards for their future security. Such has been the patient sufferance of these colonies; and such is now the necessity which constrains them to alter their former systems of government, which constrains them to alter their

Book Title Could Be Placed Here

AUTHOR

Book Title
Could Be Placed Here
Subtitle Could Be Placed Here

SUSAN Q. AUTHOR